

A brief about Dr. Prem P. Talwar

Dr. Prem P. Talwar retired as Professor and Head of the Department of Statistics and Demography, NIHFW. He worked as a Visiting Professor at Jawaharlal Nehru University in New Delhi for a year. He was awarded several awards in recognition of his contributions in the areas of Statistics/Biostatistics, Demography, Health and Family Welfare.

A short listing of these recognitions -President of the Indian Society of Medical Statistics(1977 & 1978); Orator for Veda- Prakash Oration at the NIHFW ; Fellow, Society of Medical Society (FSMS) awarded by Indian Society of Medical Statistics India for high academic excellence in Medical Statistics at National and International levels; Consultant to Dental council of India for National Oral Health Survey; Felicitated by Indian Association for Study of Population (IASP) India for outstanding contributions in the field of Population Studies (2008); George Simmons Memorial Oration by Indian Association for the Study of Population, India; awarded Life Time Achievement Award in Medical Statistics by ISMS; Published over 100 papers in national & international peer-reviewed journals/ books and written Ten books.

He worked for six years as an Adjunct Professor at the University of North Carolina, USA, teaching Biostatistics & supported research in Family Welfare Program related projects to in-service professionals from India, Nepal, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka,& Maldives pursuing their M.P.H degree. Dr. Talwar has attained a high professional status among the National and International group of Demographers and Biostatisticians.